Member Share by Emile Kfourri

For August, members who had images exhibited at the San Diego County Fair, International Exhibition of Photography, will share them. The discussion will no doubt focus on the particular attributes that made these images successful in a juried show where but 30% of entries survive.

President's Corner by Mort Needle

I am pleased to announce that Mike McMahon is the new President of our club, effective September 1. Mike has great credentials and enthusiasm and will contribute fresh insights and leadership to the organization. My thanks to the Board of Directors, both the present members and past members who served the club during my term as President of NCPS.

I also want to thank those members who have worked in the background making things happen; especially my thanks to Ed and Carolyn Stalder, Carolyn Taylor, Walt Scheib, Jack Jennings, Jeff Brosbe and Sylvia Pauloo-Taylor. I encourage everyone to continue your support of our new President.

Antique Gas and Steam Engine Museum Photo Shoot

About fifteen NCPS members met for the August 2nd photo shoot. Led by Carolyn Taylor, all in attendance found a myriad of subjects to photograph and thoroughly enjoyed their opportunities (proof to come at a future member share).

Member Profile: Mike McMahon

Mike's interest in photography started early. He has fond memories of his family's tradition of showing slides after every vacation...wow, those Kodachromes looked great! Learning exposure and composition from his Dad, gradually he was trusted with the family photo duties.

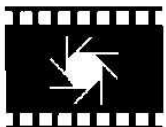

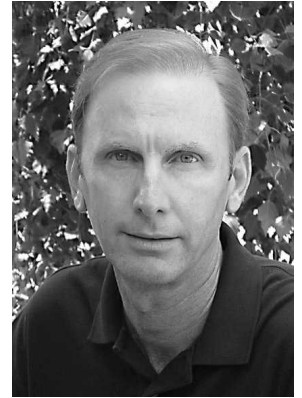

But it wasn't until college at UCSD that Mike bought his first camera (a Canon TLb), learned darkroom techniques, and secured a photojournalist assignment at the campus newspaper.

After graduation, he took a year off before entering UCLA's Graduate School of Management. It was during that time that he started a free lance photography business and did work in natural-light portraiture, cataloging work for artists, and work on a textbook. In his personal time, his camera was always on the essential equipment list for his frequent backpack trips. No wonder, then, that he is a fan of Galen Rowell – the photographer/mountaineer who specialized in the alpine landscapes of the Eastern Sierra.

After business school, Mike joined Hewlett-Packard to sell high-end computer systems in San Diego County. Over the course of a 22-year career at HP, Mike assumed responsibility for managing the sales force in the Western states...an assignment that didn't leave much time for photography. Having retired from the computer business, Mike now turns his attention to family, volunteer work, hobbies, and a renewed business interest in photography. Excited by the rapid advances in the quality and accessibility of digital photography, he now provides individual instruction to those interested in quickly mastering the in's and out's of digital imaging. And he enjoys donating his photo services to community groups like the Carlsbad Community Theatre and the "Love on a Leash" Therapy Dog Program.

Mike continues to use his 35 mm equipment for assignments requiring special lenses or enhanced flash but finds that a mid-range digital camera is his preference for daily shooting.

Mike is thankful to Carolyn Taylor for introducing him to the North County Photo Society. Impressed with the quality of the presentations, the friendliness of the members, and the constructive Member Share sessions, he joined after his first visit! Now he's excited about contributing to the enthusiasm of the Club as its new President and looks forward to exciting times ahead.
